

fwi::grid::Grid::getCols

create_standard_grid

main

```
graph RL; main --> create_standard_grid; create_standard_grid --> fwi::grid::Grid::getCols;
```

The diagram illustrates a call stack with three frames. The rightmost frame is 'main', which calls 'create_standard_grid'. This function then calls 'fwi::grid::Grid::getCols'. The 'fwi::grid::Grid::getCols' frame is highlighted with a gray background, indicating it is the current function being executed.